

SAUNTERINGS

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS.
For The Sea Coast Echo.

THE World's Fair reopens at Chicago on Saturday, May 26th. Everyone should visit this marvelous exhibition if possible. Transportation rates offered last season were extremely reasonable, and will, no doubt, be in effect when the Fair reopens. Added attractions will greet this year's visitors.

GOOD old summer time has arrived on the scene. Thermometers are registering sizzling marks over the country generally, and the ice man is coming back into his own. Kiddies are laying plans for vacation time which lies but a few weeks ahead. Swimming pools are crowded, and fishing tackle stores are enjoying a rushing business. Now that we have warm weather a lot of us will be wishing for some of the chilling blasts we grumbled about last winter.

SIGN in a downtown clothing store window: "Gandhi gets by without pants but you wouldn't get far." That may be true enough, but some of the new-fangled bathing suits we viewed in action recently ran a close second to Senior Gandhi's famous costume de rigueur. Eh. What?

ANIMATED displays in windows have a charm that somehow strikes our personal fancy. An electric iron gliding back and forth unassisted on an ironing board in the Public Service Company's show window proved irresistible. And the one with water flowing continuously from a faucet suspended with no signs of a pipe nearly made us miss a deadline. It requires superhuman human effort to draw us away from that life-like jewelry store dummy with its head moving up and down and from side to side, while the eyes open and close, as the lips go through motions of speech. The king pin of unusual displays is featured by a hardware store selling gas heaters. During summer months the dealer keeps a lighted stove on the sidewalk before his store. Passing close to the heater on a mid-August day affords the passerby a warm welcome.

TIMES must be getting better. . . of late the number of panhandlers on the street have noticeably decreased. For the first time in months a fellow dropped in step as we sauntered down the street last week. It was the old tune, "Buddy, can you spare a dime for a cup of coffee?"

BUSINESSMEN who keep a framed picture of the wife and kid, dies on their desk always touch a warm spot in our humble heart. Experience has taught that this type is usually kind and considerate to employees. . . and even newspaper reporters.

OUR topsy-turvy civilization could dispense with the sensual and degrading Carica dance and proverbial at least a spark of moral decency remains in our social life.

CROSS word puzzle devotees are still in our midst, not so numerous as when the fad was at its peak, but quietly perusing this fascinating pastime in their spare moments. One finds them in the reading room of the public library, in hotel lobbies, and railroad stations. A crippled girl selling trinkets at a table before a vacant downtown store front works cross word puzzles continuously. Hoboes and down-and-outs on park benches were observed filling the word squares in papers left behind by more fortunate readers.

THE friendly service station presents a booklet with the following safety suggestions: Never pass a car when nearing the top of a hill or approaching a curve. Watch the other driver. Make allowance for the other fellow's poor or careless driving. Drive carefully in traffic. Signal with your arm before attempting a turn.

Look both ways before pulling away from the side of the road or curb.

Come to a full stop at all blind crossings.

Don't be afraid to use your horn. Have brakes and tail light tested regularly.

Always STOP, LOOK and LISTEN before crossing a railroad track.

Observe all traffic signals and stop signs.

Err on the side of caution. Think a minute and save a life.

Leave nothing to chance.

With vacation time soon here it might pay motorists to clip this advice and paste in near the driver's seat. . . just as a reminder to Be Careful—always.

Recreational Doings

At Hancock County Federal Forestry Camp

The Recreational meeting at the C. C. Camp was thoroughly enjoyed Wednesday night. The new boys were especially considered in the arrangement of the program, and they are looking forward to the ballgame to be played Friday afternoon between a group of girls and the camp boys. This is sponsored by the Recreational Group, and any girl who is capable of playing ball and desires to go should get in touch with one of the workers.

MISSISSIPPI'S POET LAUREATE IS HANCOCK CO. NATIVE-RESIDENT

Washington League Confers Title on Earl A. Cuevas, Son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cuevas—Graduate of St. Stanislaus College.

At a meeting of the Poet Laureate League, Inc., in Washington, Earl A. Cuevas of Bay St. Louis, Miss., was awarded the state poet laureateship by the advisory board. The award was conferred upon Mr. Cuevas in recognition of his excellency in poetry composition and in appreciation of the commendable interest and activity he has shown in the advancement of poetry and literature in Mississippi.

Mr. Cuevas is a member of the Western Arts Association in San Francisco, the American Poetry Society in New York, the poetry division of the Arts and Crafts Club in New Orleans and the Poet Laureate League in Washington.

It is through his efforts that a bill is now being introduced in Congress to create and subsidize the office of a national poet laureateship.

Mr. Cuevas and his fellow poets of the Eugene Field Home in St. Louis was prevented from being demolished a few weeks ago and will now be preserved as a shrine.

Among Mr. Cuevas' works are: "The Dying Muse," "The Stage is Set," "Carlos," "Vini" and "We're on Our Way."

Mississippi is the eighth state to have an official poet laureate. The others are South Carolina, Archibald Rutledge; Iowa, Anthony Klinkner; Missouri, Susan Louise Marsh; Indiana, E. A. Richardson; Florida, Vivian Yeiser Laramore; Arkansas, C. T. Davis; and Minnesota, Margarette Ball Dickson.

Mr. Cuevas is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cuevas, of Bay St. Louis and residing at Fenton and is well-known, although away from home most of the time the past few years, however, he claims his domicile at Bay St. Louis. He is a nephew of Mrs. A. A. Kergosien, Mrs. R. Selier and Mr. Victor C. Cuevas, residents of Bay St. Louis.

Earl Cuevas attended St. Stanislaus College, Bay St. Louis, from which institution he graduated with honors. He always displayed a marked aptitude for writing and his poetry has long ago received recognition, even though still a young man. The state, indeed, feels justly proud of this product of Hancock county.

Waterworks Reservoir Undergoing Cleaning Plant Gets Painting

Commissioner of City Utilities, H. Grady Perkins is directing the work of a general cleansing and paint job at the city waterworks plant and to which he has been giving all the personal attention possible.

The cleansing of the reservoir is a big job. It was found there was a heavy sediment in the big concrete water holders, silt and other deposits that was to quite a depth. This has been removed and the interior of the reservoirs thoroughly cleansed so that now the water has no chance of the slightest contamination. This explains why the water pressure has been low of late evenings and nights.

In addition to this the pumps and engines have undergone a thorough overhauling and given the most minute attention. Besides, the paint brush is playing an important part in this general spring cleaning that is going on at the waterworks and fire plant. Be all this said to the credit of the administration.

TO VOTE ON BUS ROUTE

June 4 Selected by City as Date for Voters to Say If Bus Line To Run On Beach

In pursuance to the provisions of a petition presented to the Board of Mayor and City Commissioners at their regular monthly meeting, Monday morning, and which was duly signed by the required number of qualified electors of the City of Bay St. Louis, the city has ordered a special election to be held on Monday, June 4.

It will be remembered that some time back the city passed an ordinance forbidding trucks and all other vehicles of certain tonnage from using the beach highway or boulevard. This included the bus line and resulted in its removal from the front. The matter is now up to the public and by their vote the matter will be decided.

MOTHER'S DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN COUNTY OVER, SUNDAY MAY 13

Day Is Outstanding One In Annals of Year—None Should Fail to Observe

The Second Sunday in May is generally observed as Mother's Day. It is generally recognized as an occasion for formal expressions of tender regard that men and women everywhere hold for their mothers. The people of Hancock county will, as usual, take advantage of this day to remember those mothers who have departed and to give to those living some tangible evidence of filial appreciation. While mothers are supposed to take many things for granted, they should not be expected to assume always that their children are conscious of a debt that they owe.

Surely, if any special day in the year deserves observation, it is Mother's Day, and we hope that every reader of The Echo will participate in its observance this year.

MOSS POINT TOO, HAS GIRL DEATH MYSTERY; Baffles Community

Authorities are Investigating Death of High School Student Whose Body Found in Waters of Gulf

Sheriff Guy Krebs Monday investigated the death of Miss Alma Murphy, 15-year-old Moss Point, high school student, whose partly-clad body was recovered from the gulf Sunday.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by drowning "as a result of causes unknown." Friends said she had threatened to commit suicide recently after a misunderstanding with a suitor.

She left home, where she resided with her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Placot, on the Old Spanish Trail between Pascagoula and Moss Point, to attend a beach party at the Municipal park given by the B. Y. P. U. of the local Baptist church. She was last seen on the municipal pier about 9:30 o'clock. The crowd of young folks came back to the city without missing the young lady. When she had not returned home by 2 o'clock next morning, her mother became uneasy and phoned the sheriff, who went to the beach and found the clothing.

Press reports are of the kind where writers are guarded in their statements but others living in the Pascagoula section of the Coast advance various theories and much doubt remains. However, word is to the effect the matter will be thoroughly sifted and, if possible, if guilty parties there be, justice will be meted.

Rev. Bishop Gerow, of Natchez was present and at 7:30 that evening confirmed the class to which were added a number of adults from the local and outstanding country parishes or missions. The attendance at both morning and evening services tested the seating capacity of the spacious Our Lady of the Gulf church.

The communion class was composed of: GIRLS: Helen Arnold, Eulah Adams, Edna Adams, Thelma Adams, Helen Bieh,

Recreational Day For Hancock County Last Saturday Scored Big

Despite the rainy weather the Hancock County Recreational Meeting last Saturday, May 5, was a complete success. The morning was spent running off the athletic events and prizes were awarded for each event.

Saturday afternoon was spent in K. C. Hall, through the kindness of Mr. E. J. Arceneaux and Alphonse G. Favre. All enjoyed the indoors sports, games, songs and dancing. The day ended with a smile for all and everyone left hoping to soon meet again. Flat top community won the banner, of green and gold, for the largest attendance. This banner was made by Miss Kathleen Renshaw.

The management wishes to again thank the merchants who donated the prizes and Brother William of St. Stanislaus College for his generosity, also to Miss Gertrude Perkins, Mr. Earl Ramond and their assistants who capably handled the events. The recreational workers appreciate the cooperation of every one and hereby express their thanks.

Notice to Parties Interested in Dances At Forestry Camp

"Lately outside boys have been attending these dances, but since there are enough boys in the camp to make the dance a success, we will not be able to allow any outsiders inside of the Recreational hall at the future dances. Hoping this will be sufficient explanation and will avoid embarrassment on part of anyone."

"It is absolutely necessary for any young lady who wishes to attend these dances to have a card from a chaperone. They will not be able to enter the hall without this card at future dances."

MERCHANT POST-MASTER AT CUEVAS HELD UP AT BUSINESS PLACE; ROBBED

Masked Men Wearing Black Gloves Force 74-Year Old Man to Open Postoffice Safe—Get Cash and Escape.

Forcing Ursan V. Cuevas, 74-year old postmaster at Cuevas, 12 miles northwest of Gulfport in the Pineville community, to open the postoffice safe, two masked men about 8 o'clock Saturday night took $40 in cash and escaped.

Mr. Cuevas had already closed his combination store and postoffice and had gone to his home only a few feet away when the men called him and requested that he open the store and to wait and he would bring it to them, he went to the rear door, but was followed by the two men, one of whom had a pistol.

Informing him that it was a hold-up, the men rifled the cash register in the store of about $5, according to the report given officers, and then directed Cuevas to open the safe in the postoffice department.

Stamps and other valuables in the safe were not molested, it was said, the robbers contenting themselves to take only the cash from the safe which was said to have been about $35.

Deputy Sheriff Edward VanZandt and Henry Riggs, fingerprint man, investigated the case. Both robbers wore black gloves and no fingerprints were left, it was understood.

Both hold-up men being masked, the postmaster was unable to furnish any detailed description, but estimated that they were under 30 years of age, officers said. He did not know which direction they took in leaving or what kind of automobile they were using, but said that shortly after they left the store, he heard a car crank up and drive away.

Postoffice authorities at Gulfport said that the case would doubtless be investigated by R. B. Franklin of Hattiesburg, who is filling the position of Postoffice Inspector A. S. Hagrove, during the latter's illness.

MOTHER'S DAY TO BE OBSERVED.

THE citizens of Hancock County will join with the rest of the world in paying tribute to their mothers on next Sunday, May 13th, Mother's Day. Of all the special days that have been set aside for us to observe, there is none which is so universal in its appeal or so gladly observed as is this day.

Some of us will wear the red carnation, rejoicing in the fact that this signifies to the world that we still have our mothers with us. Others will wear the white carnation denoting that she, who gave them birth, has passed on to her reward.

It is right that we have a day for honoring our mothers. Surely, they have done enough for us to deserve our everlasting honor. And, yet, shall we join in observing one day out of 365 and then forget her the rest of the time? Surely, no citizen of our country would be guilty of such a thing, but aren't there those of us who have been doing just that. We are afraid so.

Nations have long recognized that their future destinies rested in the hands of their mothers. Napoleon once said of the French nation he seized: "France needs nothing so much to promote her regeneration as good mothers." He further stated that "the future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother."

In honoring their mothers, the mothers of children today might do well to consider seriously the responsible task which is theirs in the proper training and caring for those who call them "Mother." Are they too busy with other things of life, social ambitions or whatnot, to give the proper time to their little children?

John Quincy Adams once said, "All that I am, my mother made me." What are the mothers of this country making of their children? Will they be honest, upright citizens, with a sense of right values in life, or will they come to regret having been born?

Mothers are the world's greatest builders—they create the next generation, they mold the character of children, the future citizens of the world. And no artist, architect or builder, working at his task, brings to his work the love, devotion, unselfishness and affection that a real mother brings to the molding of the character and abilities of her children. Nothing in the world is more beautiful or real than:

"A mother's love—how sweet the name!

What a mother's love?

A noble, pure and tender flame,

Enkindled from above,

To bless a heart of earthly mould,

The warmest love that can't grow cold;

This is a mother's love."

TRIBUTE TO AN EMPLOYEE.

IT IS not often such tribute is paid an employee by his employer as W. A. McDonald, local wholesale merchant, as in the case of William Morgan, colored, whose passing away is recorded this week.

Morgan entered the employ of Mr. McDonald 1904 and remained in a position of trust continuously thru to 1920.

"My business in those days," said Mr. McDonald, "enjoyed a daily cash receipt of several hundred dollars. Many a time I was away for a while and Morgan was in full charge of my business. He knew the combination of my safe, kept the keys of my store and in my absence wrote deposit slips and visited the bank daily. At no time did he in the least manner—not even a suspicion—did he fail in my confidence. His loyalty and honesty were unquestioned and his service to my business and to the public was above reproach. I have been many years in business, I have traveled and at no time and in no place, nor instance, have I met or heard of the like."

Such a tribute to man's honesty, as humble as Morgan was, is an example that it would be well for others to emulate. It pays handsome dividends. It leaves an imperishable memory.

SAME PROBLEM HERE.

ADVERTISING is misunderstood to a considerable extent by many merchants. Some of them take it for granted that the people in their trading area know that they are in business, what they sell and will give them such business as they may have.

These business men are aware of the fact that large department stores in metropolitan areas occupy buildings that are sometimes outstanding and the object of amazement to their customers. Certainly, everyone in the trading territory knows that the department store exists and because they sell practically everything, what they have for sale.

Nevertheless, it is not uncommon to see a large department store using from three to four pages of advertising in a single issue of the large newspapers at a tremendous cost. However, measured in results, the cost dwindles and, in the end, the wise manager of these stores knows that "advertising pays."

The Sea Coast Echo has not, of course, the circulation of the large dailies of the nation, nor have the merchants here the stocks of the large metropolitan department stores. However, in essence, the advertising problem in Bay St. Louis is the same for local merchants and they must use judicious advertising expenditures in the best way possible, seeking not only to acquaint the public with their firm and its business but to stimulate seasonal sales and introduce new goods.

MISSISSIPPI'S POET LAUREATE.

A DISTINCTION and recognition has come to a native son of Hancock county, Earl A. Cuevas, young son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cuevas, whose homestead is located at Fenton, a dozen miles or more from Bay St. Louis.

The Poet Laureate League, Inc., in Washington, has awarded the State poet laureateship by the advisory board to young Cuevas, and aside from the distinctive honor such award carries The Sea Coast Echo wishes to confirm the wisdom of such selection. On several occasions some years ago this newspaper had the privilege of publishing some poems by this native born writer whose poet-soul and ability as a writer of thought and depth has appealed to the reader of real poetry.

Mr. Cuevas has published several well-known works and we look forward to the future that he may enrich the store of written poetry. The intelligencia and literati hail the poet laureate of Mississippi and the lay readers, too, will enjoy the enrichment that such pen will contribute.

THE OTHER EXTREME.

THE world generally believed Germany was responsible for the World War. The propaganda of the Allies was directed to reinforcing that opinion. In the Versailles Treaty penalties were applied upon that admitted theory.

As was to be expected in the stress of conflict, the world accepted to completely the thesis of sole German guilt. While the Germans had their share of responsibility, it is being generally admitted more and more as historical research delves into the true facts of the situation that other nations were also partly to blame and, perhaps, some more so than the Germans.

The present head of the German nation goes to the other extreme and insinuates that all the fault was on other peoples. "Without being guilty of war," Hitler shouted, "we became the victims of war. Those who plunged us into calamity fifteen years ago proposed no other remedy than spineless submission. The Nazi Government's will is that every normal effort shall be bent toward our self preservation."

TO RESTRAIN SELFISHNESS.

IT IS perfectly natural that the members of a society who have used existing agencies and methods to get rich should oppose any plan for reform. These opponents play upon the fears of others in an effort to take support away from the liberal statesmen seeking to benefit the country as a whole.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace recently said that the enemies of the Republic are those organizers of public opinion and those politicians who knowingly and hypocritically endeavor to place the tag of communism on liberal Democratic principles in order that they may gain votes or preserve inordinate profits.

The government is not going to supervise every detail of every business, the Secretary asserted, but "in a civilized state, in order to obtain the maximum of freedom, we must by common agreement set certain boundaries to the free play of our selfishness."

L. & N. ENGINEER ENDS 50 YEARS SERVICE.

JEFF D. HALLOWAY has reached his 72nd milestone in life. There is nothing so remarkable about this, however, it is an occasion for felicitation and expresses the wish many more such anniversaries will recur.

But when a man like Mr. Halloway has served one corporation for fifty consecutive years—a railroad as engineer there is more than ordinary interest. This is not only a record but an accomplishment.

"Jeff Halloway," as he is better known and not as "Mr. Halloway," is engineer on the well-known Coast Train, No. 37. It may well be said he is known by every man, woman and child between that territory he travels to and fro. He is to be presented within the next few days with a diamond-studded pin by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, a prized trophy to be handed down to generations.

MOTHER'S DAY, 1934

THERE'S a little cottage yonder
With a little mother in it,
And my heart is singing to her,
Like the thrilling of a linnnet.

She is not a stately lady
With a purple robe upon her,
She is just the sort of woman
Humble folks delight to honor.

She's a kind and thoughtful neighbor
With a busy hand that blesses,
And her smiles are benedictions
And her words are warm caresses.

How her husband does adore her,
He is still her ardent lover,
How her children all extol her,
Only God can be above her.

Every son and every daughter,
With your roses red as blushes,
Wear them for your winsome mother,
Singing love-songs like the thrushes.

In the little grave-yard yonder,
There's a little mother sleeping.
Such can never be forgotten,
How her children still are weeping!

Her dear lips have had their kisses,
How her eager ears have listened
To the prattle of her babies,
How her happy eyes have glistened!

Is there only dirt, I wonder,
Where there used to be a mother?
God could never be so cruel,
She is living still, my brother.

Wear a rose as white as she was
When you buried her, my sister,
It will warm her heart with rapture
As it used when you kissed her.

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

FASCISM.

THOSE who are interested in the newest fashions must turn their attention to the Fascists who are showing the very latest thing in governmental styles. Unfortunately it is not easy to get all the information about them that we would like. We have to depend largely on scattered items and on propaganda for and against.

The fascies was an axe tied up in a bundle of rods, which was carried before Roman consuls and other high officers as a symbol of their authority. You can see one pictured on the American dime. Fascism frankly and boldly emphasizes order and government power at the expense of individual liberty, so that it is anathema to all good liberals. In economics it seems to be a good deal like the N. R. A. raised to the nth power, with labor and consumers represented on the code authorities, and the government controlling. When the government says to raise or lower prices or wages there is no discussion at all about whether it can or should be done or not; the code authorities merely decide how to do it. Fascism is nationalistic, not international. It does not interfere with the ownership of private property, but does regulate its management. It is accused of being the organ of capitalism; but appearances are that its strength is rather with the lower middle class, especially the white-collar workers and skilled laborers. It is equally hated by liberal individualists and by communists.

After the great war Italy was in very bad shape. The government was weak. Bolshevism, copied from the Russians, caused a lot of disorder. Workers took over factories from the owners, and then discovered that they could not make them go. Radicals of all sorts caused troubles of all kinds. Strikes were the regular thing. There was too much freedom, strange as that sounds to an American ear.

To meet the threat of anarchy, of communism, a party was organized mainly of young men, war veterans, which fought violence with violence. It developed two ingenious ways of dealing with opponents, especially with radical agitators. One method was to have the orator's head, and sometimes to paint an Italian flag on the bald pate. No speaker could arouse any enthusiasm against the government when his head looked so funny. The more excited he got the more laughs he raised. The other method was to take the agitator down, stick a funnel in his mouth and pour a quart of castor oil into him. This procedure retired the victim from circulation for a couple of days and left him in no condition to get any sympathy for his sufferings. The liberals howled with rage, but the crowds with laughter.

The Fascists restored some semblance of order in northern Italy, which had been the worst upset, then held a big convention, marched to Rome and took over the government from the incompetent ministers who had been merely looking on. They promptly established order all over Italy. Mussolini, head of the organization has been telling the outsiders what to do ever since, and they do just exactly what he says. If he wants more wheat they raise more wheat. If he wants more babies they have a great and sudden increase in the birth rate. The discipline is wonderful.

As nearly as we can find out, the system is working excellently. There is no question that Mussolini is a very smart man indeed, even if rather rough in his methods. There have been great difficulties, and there still are; but Italy seems to be managing much better than most other European countries.

In Germany Herr Hitler, with the Charlie Chaplin mustache, is apparently trying to imitate Mussolini. At first he was generally regarded outside of Germany as a bad joke, but he seems to be getting along much better than anybody expected. Even under questionable direction a planned economy evidently has its advantages. Austria, under Chancellor Dollfuss, is the latest recruit to the Fascist fashion parade.

There is also a Fascist party in Great Britain, with the declared policy of organizing industry and raising wages to provide mass consumption as an outlet for mass production. It sounds a good deal like some of the "New Deal" speeches in this country. It is "violently opposed" to the economic dictatorship of the bankers and financiers in the City of London. (When a Fascist says violent he means violent.) According to the definition of Sir Oswald Mosely, head of the party in Britain, "Fascism is a universal creed of patriotic reconstruction along modern lines and under the disciplined control of a powerful central government." "The blackshirt movement recognizes that the problem of underconsumption is the problem of the day, and that it can only be solved by a general raising of wages and salaries over the whole field of industry, within the controlled system of the corporate state. This will increase purchasing power in the home market."

Fascism is a party of youth. It is as revolutionary as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. It has developed in Europe, where conditions have been worse than in this country. They are beginning to talk about it here.

MONEY EXPECTED SOON FOR COAST WHARF PROJECT

Contract for Purchase of $1,150,000 Issue Received From PWA

Contract for the purchase of $1,150,000 of bonds to be issued by the city of Gulfport for the construction of the west side pier and warehouse was received the early part of the week from the public works administration at Washington, and after receiving the signatures of the proper officials will be returned to Washington for approval. Belief was expressed that money for the Gulfport harbor improvement project will be available in the near future.

Meanwhile, the local firm of Shourds and Beans is proceeding with the preparation of the preliminary plans and specifications for the pier and warehouse.

The Echo understands authoritatively this will give work to men along the entire gulf coast as it is understood and considered to be a coast project. A liberal quota, of course, will be awarded to Gulfport, to Biloxi, Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis as well. About 25 men, it is understood, will be the Bay quota, possibly more. This is a fine improvement for the Coast harbor and will represent future development and business.

Coat of Paint and Renovation to Be Given Bay St. Louis City Hall

The Mayor and Commissioners believe in the adage that a stitch in time saves nine and that protecting the surface by paint to save the building in addition to the fact that beautification spells civic progress.

Accordingly, they have passed an order to have the woodwork of the City Hall painted and also whatever renovation may be necessary before painting. In order to give this work out that it may give the most work to the people, they are not contracting the job, but will give it out and have it done by the day's work.

The building is in need of paint and there seems no more opportune time than the present for this work.

Firestone

LEADERSHIP

The Ultimate Test of Leadership is Performance

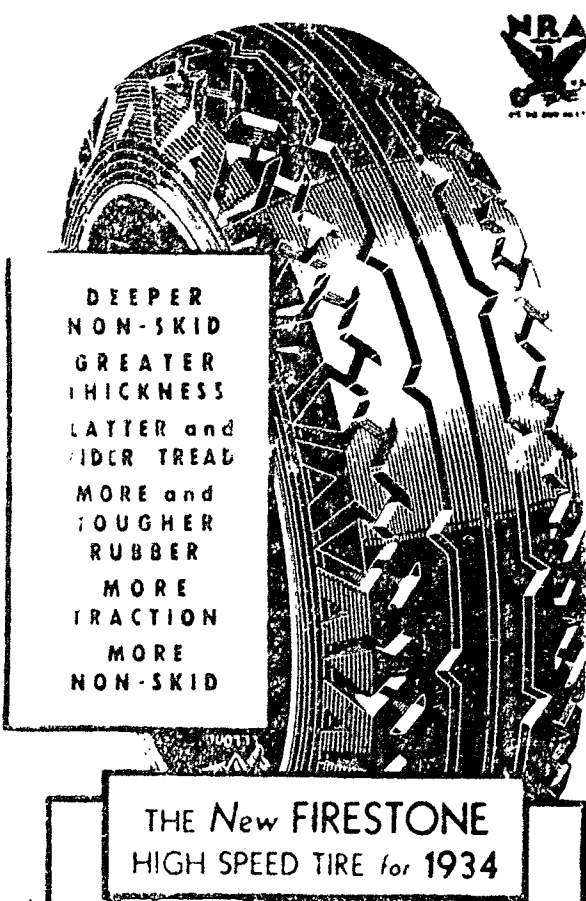

FIRESTONE has maintained its leadership in tire development by producing a new tire for 1934 with a wider tread, flatter contour, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, and more and tougher rubber, which gives greater non-skid safety, more traction, greater blowout protection, and more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

These achievements are made practical by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, providing greater adhesion between the plies of the high stretch cords and between the Gum-Dipped body of the tire and the tough, massive non-skid tread. It also provides greater strength, longer lasting life, and greater protection against blowouts.

Gum-Dipping made it possible for Firestone to design, develop and put on the market the first successful balloon tire in 1923. This tire was the pattern used by all others and completely revolutionized the tire industry and set new standards for the automobile industry.

Firestone also developed the first all-rubber non-skid tire, and has always been first to give motorists the benefits of new discoveries in non-skid design, providing more traction and greater non-skid safety.

For fourteen years leading race drivers have driven to victory on Firestone tires, built with Gum-Dipped high stretch cords. They have trusted their lives to Firestone Leadership—as they know that the patented Firestone construction features provide them with greater safety—longer mileage—and greater blowout protection.

BILOXI CITY WILL GIVE $1,641,000 BONDS FOR OLDER ISSUES IN STEAD

Refunding Securities Will Take Up All Outstanding Paper—Refunding Plan to Cover 20 Outstanding Issues

A resolution was adopted by the city commission of Biloxi Monday refunding bonds totaling $1,641,000 to cover old issues. In the move for refunding all outstanding bonds of the city of Biloxi, City Attorney Walter Wadlington and the city commission were assisted by Myrant Adams in the working out of a plan to cover the matter. The refunding bonds will be known as the City of Biloxi Refunding Bonds of 1934 and will consist of several series, each to refund an issue of Biloxi bonds now in effect. The ordinance authorizing the issue of refunding bonds provides for the exchange at par of refunding bonds for those outstanding. Those behind the undertaking are of the opinion the new issue will prove entirely profitable to the city. The refunding plan covers 20 outstanding issues and will save the city interest.

Biloxi's finances, like all other cities, have suffered considerably as a result of the depression and in turn lack of collection of taxes. Many other towns and cities have done likewise and it was not only the proper course of procedure for Biloxi but the move was well nigh inevitable. There was no other alternative.

Fire of Unknown Origin Destroys Garage And Auto Sunday

An alarm shortly before midnight Sunday called the fire department to quell a fire discovered in the garage at the family residence of Mrs. Alphonse Payard, Second near State street, the property owned by R. de Montluzin.

The car was the property of Mrs. Payard and was a Willis-Knight, in splendid condition and up-keep. It is said the fire originated in the car presumably from a smoldering and forgotten cigarette or a short-circuit. However, regardless of the cause of origin, the car was partially destroyed. The fire department responded promptly and did excellent work in preventing the fire from spreading. If any insurance could not be ascertained, but it was reported the loss was not covered with such protection.

Hitch-hiking to Heaven on the royal road of Romance! A poor, little rich girl, with a million dollars—but she had to beg for love! Sparkling comedy! Exciting surprises. Thrilling romance!

That's the story of "It Happened One Night," with Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert co-starring comedy-drama showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the 13th, 14th and 15th at the Paramount Theatre, Gulfport. Claudette runs away from her father's palatial Miami home to go to New York. She meets the gallant Clark on a night bus and ere long is safely ensconced under his protective wing. A rainstorm halts the bus; they spend the days hitch-hiking, the nights in auto-camps. After a series of thrilling and romantic adventures they reach New York with the prospect of a wedding in the offing. Walter Connolly, Jameson Thomas, Roscoe Karns and Ward Bond are featured in the all-important supporting roles under the direction of Frank Capra.

Frank Buck, the wild animal collector who created a sensation with the thrills he provided in "Bring 'Em Back Alive," returns to the screen at the Paramount, Gulfport, Thursday and Friday the 18th and 19th in "Wild Cargo." "Wild Cargo" logs Buck's adventures in the Asiatic wilds where he recently was engaged for six months trapping rare and wild animals.

Bay St. Louis Library Has Many Interesting Books Offered Public

At what age do we read the most? We are not up on statistics, but Miss Louise Crawford, the new librarian, says big boys and girls are her best customers though one wouldn't dream of hinting for more books of the community library and boarding school variety. Anyway, we hope of our library, with A. E. Bostwick, Librarian, Bay St. Louis, to "find a reader for every book on its shelves and provide a book for every reader in its community."

Here are three shiny new ones: "Robbie in Arms," by Kenneth Roberts, "Mary of Scotland," by Max well Anderson and "River's End," by James Oliver Curwood; also a child's book by Ruth McNery Stuart, "The Story of Babette."

Of books and the library's future, enthusiasm was shown at its new board's last meeting, held 10 A. M. Tuesday last, by Mrs. Carl Marshall, president, Miss Louise Crawford, corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Rhoden, secretary, Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mrs. Ed Carrere and Mrs. Sam George.

Whenever I meet a man—or a woman—who "doesn't like salad," I wonder about his early food-life. So often, you know in childhood we acquire "likes" and "dislikes" through distorted first impressions.

In salad making, there are certain short-cuts in time and labor, news of which has come to me from clever women who are noted for their salads.

Limas in the Salad: Mark that limas are one of the most delicious of vegetables. They're hearty, too. A vegetable salad that includes limas, make a meal—if you serve some good crackers and cheese with it, and wind up with a bit of fruit. Don't forget the coffee, now or at any time of the year.

IF IT COMES FROM MOLLERE'S ITS THE BEST.

WILLIAM J. WEIR, 79, AGED AND BELOVED. CITIZEN PASSES ON

Funeral Wednesday Afternoon—Interment at Cedar Rest—Rev. Gray Conducts Last Rites

Following a spell of illness, William Jessie Weir, aged 79 years, passed away at his home corner South Beach Boulevard and Booker avenue, on Wednesday evening, May 8, 1934, at 7 o'clock.

He was a native of Alabama and the husband of the late, Fannie Booker. He is survived by two sons, H. J. Weir, of Jackson, Miss., Booker Weir of Las Vegas, Nev.; two daughters, Mrs. W. A. Moran of Dallas, Texas, and Miss Pearl Weir of Bay St. Louis.

He spent the early part of his married life as a planter in Washington county, Miss., later years as county tax collector. The past six years or more he had retired and resided at his place of residence in this city.

Funeral rites took place Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. J. E. Gray, pastor First Methodist church, officiating. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World order.

Mr. Weir was a kindly and beloved figure. Cultured, genial and ever friendly, a scholar and withal a gentleman of the old school. His passing away is an occasion for sorrow and general regret and his demise is noted with more than ordinary feeling. The family has the sympathy of many friends here and elsewhere.

Interment was at Cedar Rest cemetery.

Say It With Flowers On Mother's Day, Sunday, May 13th.

Nothing will better and more tenderly express sentiment and love to Mother than flowers on "Mother's Day," next Sunday, May 13. To this end Adams Florist, Pass Christian carries an advertisement in this week's Echo, specializing in flower gifts for the day. Flowers are beautiful and since nothing is too pretty for mother, why not "Say It With Flowers" this year. Cut flowers or potted plants in variety and various prices at most moderate cost. See Adams first before buying that remembrance for Mother. She will like the flowers better than anything else.

—Mr. Adam Lorch and family plan to soon arrive for the summer season and a force of painters are renovating the Lorch villa, enhancing the attractiveness of this well-known and lovely home with the wide-spreading oaks.

They returned home to Bay St. Louis after the party.

—Mr. P. E. Mitchell, prominent resident of Middleton, Tenn., is visiting at the home of his brother-in-law, Major W. A. McDonald, at the family home on North Beach Boulevard. Mr. Mitchell resided here years ago when "Red Hot Stores" chain was owned and operated in Bay St. Louis by Mr. McDonald. The visitor finds many marked improvements about the city and is enjoying his stay on the Wonderful Gulf Coast.

—Mrs. P. Gaspard and niece Miss Geraldine Ames, have moved into their own attractive and handsome dwelling, recently completed on North Beach Boulevard, corner de Montluzin avenue, one of the outstanding and modern structures on the Coast strand. The real joy and successful business man always has time for recreational endeavor and application to hobbies worth while.

Schubert Music Club Presents Program At St. Joseph's Academy

A varied program was presented Saturday evening by the Bay St. Louis Schubert Music Club to a large and appreciative audience in the music hall of St. Joseph's Academy, to full seating capacity.

This was the annual final program for the winter and spring season, the study courses dismissed for the summer months.

The musical numbers were directed by Miss E. Lacoste, the club's director. It was noted the program carried more popular and possibly better known selections this season, approval of which was unmistakably manifested by applause and other expressions of satisfaction.

Mrs. Moss and Mrs. H. C. Glover were outstanding soloists and the choral work showed good voices and thorough study, ably directed. Good chorus work is rather rare.

Miss Wenar's reading, too, was well received and appreciated. Miss Renaud's piano solo and Mrs. Katherine Schmitt-Thomas' violin numbers were pre-eminently outstanding.

In all the Schubert Club gave a creditable and pleasing rendition, opinion to that effect unanimous. With appreciation, the work of the club for next year will be anticipated.

MRS. THOMAS' DANCING CLASSES

Mrs. Katherine Thomas wishes to correct the misunderstanding regarding classes and private lessons. The afterschool hours have been so crowded with training and rehearsals for the Novelty Revue to be presented May 29, that the routine class-work had to be discontinued until after that date. The rehearsals are in progress daily and with so many costumes and properties to be prepared, it has called for more intensive work than the regular hours permit. Starting June 1st, Mrs. Thomas will continue class and private lessons as formerly.

A former resident of New Orleans, Mrs. Daugimont has made her home in Waveland for the past fifteen years and enjoys the wonderful gulf coast climate as well as her comfortable and spacious home and the beautiful garden that surrounds it the year round, the success of which is due to her own individual attention and love for flowers.

Fayard, to Mr. Charles Lamantia, of Houston and New Orleans, is announced by Mrs. Fayard, the happy event to take place at an early date, not yet determined. YOUNG COUPLE HAVE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION AT CLUB.

Observing their thirteenth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Osinach enjoyed the pleasures of Uncle Charlie's beautiful nite club Saturday, having with them a number of friends. However, due to inclement weather, and particularly at the time of going, a number of invited guests were unable to make it. Preceding the party at the club, Mr. and Mrs. Osinach held an informal reception at the spacious residence of Dr. and Mrs. Smith where they served refreshment fitting and becoming, so happy an occasion. Mr. Osinach is prominently identified with the civic and commercial activities of the city and county, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, etc., while Mrs. Osinach possesses many charms and accomplishments. May they and their unusually interesting family see many more such anniversaries.

MRS. GEX AND MRS. GENIN ENTERTAIN GUESTS FOR WEEK-END.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Genin, Mrs. M. V. Gex and daughter, Miss V. Gex and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, residing on North Beach Boulevard, entertained from New Orleans for the past week-end a delightful house party of relatives and friends, namely, Mrs. B. Barbazon, Mr. and Mrs. E. Piazatti and daughter, Miss Pauletter, Mrs. James Demourille and Miss Inez Calale. The occasion of their visit was to witness the first communion ceremony and later in the evening the confirmation ceremony at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf Sunday, when 66 boys and girls composed the communion class. Mrs. Gex's great-grand daughter, Vivian Prague, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, as well as a niece of Mrs. Genin's and Miss V. Gex, was a member of that class.

It was singular and seemingly most fitting that the god-parents of young Miss Vivian Prague, Mr. Robert L. Genin and Miss V. Gex, should also be the sponsors that evening for the 34 confirmation class, they having been selected for this particular honor by the church.

Miss Vivian Prague is also the niece of Messrs. W. J. Gex, Sr., E. J. Gex and the late Mrs. Nina Ladner.

BISHOP CANNON, who split the South and gave four of its states to Hoover in 1928, recently won acquittal by a jury in Washington on a criminal charge of misusing funds in that campaign in his effort to beat Al Smith.

Jointly charged with him was his woman secretary and the offense was court held both must be convicted, not either, since there could be no conspiracy with only one person involved. Evidently the jury thought there was a reasonable doubt in favor of the accused.

Mothers Look Forward to this Hour...

"It's the hour when sons or daughters or old friends call them from some distant place by telephone. How happily they look forward to this time."

Thousands of families are doing this, not only on special occasions like Mothers' Day, but regularly each week, enjoying a short, inexpensive voice visit by telephone with members of the family in other cities. Because your voice is over the telephone, such visits are as satisfactory as though you were together in the same room.

Visiting loved ones at regular intervals by long distance telephone is a delightful way to keep family ties alive at small cost. Ask "long distance" for rates.

Colored Citizen Dies At New Orleans and Remains Conveyed Home

Wm. J. Morgan, native of Bay St. Louis, aged 62 years died at New Orleans Monday of this week, May 7, 1934, at about noon, following a long siege of malignant ailment.

The remains were conveyed to Bay St. Louis to his late home and the funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, interment at Cedar Rest cemetery. The remains were taken to the church of St. Rose de Lina, where the Rev. Father John, pastor performed the last rites as well as at the grave.

Morgan was a member of our better class of colored citizenry, industrious and applied himself to his work, always seeing the interest of his employers. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Agnes.

Morgan will, perhaps be better remembered, as an employee of W. A. McDonald and also for a while for C. C. McDonald, a period of constant employment with the McDonald firm over thirty-five years. His employers speak very well of him and tribute for his loyalty and services rendered. No workman need a better recommendation. He was a good citizen, active member of his faith and in all lived an exemplary life and was indeed an outstanding member to his race.

ried to Jackson, Miss., to fight a plan afoot in the Methodist general conference to retire him as superannuated, two years ahead of his legal age for retirement. He lost the fight, although 170 votes were cast against him. Obviously the majority did not wish to humiliate him with such a penalty.

But Saturday the conference dealt him a blow only less compromising his dignity than the degree of superannuation, when it removed him as head of the board of temperance and social service of the church; and did so on the eve of a great rally he had called against legalizing the sale of hard liquor in Mississippi.

Interesting and significant is the explanation of a clergy delegate of the action of the conference. He said:

In this way we will have removed Bishop Cannon from the chairmanship of the board and taken him out of the headlines, so that the newspapers will drop his name.

That must be accepted as a frank admission by the conference that Bishop Cannon's type of militancy, mixed with activity in politics, kept him and the church constantly on the front pages and invited widespread criticism in editorial columns and from both clergy and laymen of the Methodist organization, was hurtful rather than helpful to the cause for which the church stands, and that demotion of the bishop would make for increased church unity.

The conference seems to have found a happy way out of a difficult situation. (N. O. Daily States.)
